LIBRARY BOARD WILL ADVERTISE AGAIN FOR BIDS

Unable to finance the construction of the proposed garage and stack-room now a complete unit, the board of directors of the Adams County Free Library Friday evening decided to do the work by stages and will re-advertise for bids for the "shell" of the building.

The wiring and plumbing work will be done later and stacks will be added as funds are available.

Bids opened a month ago, totaling nearly $15,000, were rejected, and the new bids to be opened in January may find the library needing only $3,000 or $4,000 beyond its present building funds to handle the contract cost, board discussion indicated.

Get Legacy Soon

The urgent need for more storage and work space was stressed by the librarian, Mrs. Mary S. Wilson. Those needs will be met and storage quarters will be provided for the library's new bookmobile under the plan now being advanced, directors said.

Bolstering its building plans, the library has been notified that an account is to be filed in court this month in the C. L. Richartz estate through which the library will obtain a legacy of $1,500 plus about $142 in accrued interest.

The board heard a report from Mrs. Q. W. Hershey, chairman of the committee on arrangements for the annual meeting January 20. She said a symposium is being planned on the theme "The Library Provides" with a presentation of the many services rendered by the library. Election of directors will be held and annual reports will be presented.

Budget Committee Named

L. S. Long, Mrs. Kenneth Smoke and William C. Darrah were appointed to the budget committee to present a report at the January 7 meeting of the board.

The board received the resignation of A. G. Ealy as a member of the board from Littlestown and that vacancy will be added to the list for (Continued On Page 3)

GLEE CLUB AT MOUNT TO GIVE CONCERT DEC. 12

The annual Christmas Concert of the Mount St. Mary's College Glee Club will be held on Sunday evening December 12 at 8 o'clock in the Memorial Gymnasium, Emmitsburg.

Under the direction of the Rev. David W. Shaum, the chorale will offer a Musical Christmas Card ranging from traditional tunes such as Jingle Bells to Faust's Flower Song by Gounod.

Guest soprano soloist for the Christmas Program is Miss Ann Sinclair, native of Washington, who has frequently appeared with the National Symphony. James Coyne of Salem, N. J., is the bass soloist and Marzelle Braud of Baton Rouge, La., is the tenor soloist.

The Glee Club will also be featured over WMAL-TV on December 12 at 4:00 p.m. in a Christmas Program. On December 13 they will perform for the Lions Club, Emmitsburg, Md., and on December 15, for the Kiwanis at Taneytown.

Two Gifts For Book Fund Of $1,000 And $3.81

The county library's Book Fund received two special donations last month—an anonymous gift of $1,000 and $3.81 from Mrs. J. B. Collins' kindergarten boys and girls.

The $3.18 came from pennies and nickels given by the kindergarten boys and girls after they visited the library recently, took a ride around the library's parking lot in the new bookmobile and were told a story by the librarian, Mrs. Mary S. Wilson.

In line with the request from the kindergarten that the money be used to buy a book for the library, Mrs. Wilson said the book "William's Shadow" by Margot Austin has been bought.

The other gift from an unidentified donor will buy several hundred badly needed books—and the Book Fund needed the money too, for today after the addition of the recent gifts the fund shows a balance of $1,077.70.

Month's Book Bill $769

Book bills for $769.26 were up for payment Friday evening.

The library has had a special need for books this fall with the greatly increased capacity of the new bookmobile and the steadily increasing circulation rate. Loans last month topped 20,000 and the total so far this year is over 160,000, a new record.

The Book Fund also was bolstered by $496 in donations from individuals and organizations from throughout the county, outside the Gettysburg Community Chest territory. The gifts were in response to a special appeal mailed early in the fall.

Here And There News Collected At Random

The following statement by President Eisenhower is self-explanatory. It is published with the hope that all motorists of Gettysburg and the county will cooperate fully in this project.

The President's message follows:

My Fellow Citizens:

"December 15th this year will be Safe Driving Day—a day proclaimed throughout America by your governors, mayors and county officials in cooperation with the President's Action Committee for Traffic Safety. This Committee is a volunteer group of citizens working, at my request, to reduce fatalities and accidents on our nation's streets and highways.

"All of us agree with the purpose of Safe Driving Day. It is to save lives and to prevent injuries. No endeavor could be more worthy of our universal cooperation. None is more urgent.

"On this December 15th I hope that every American will make it a day without a single traffic accident throughout our entire country.

"How can we best do this? Three things are essential.

"First, let's each of us make sure that we obey traffic regulations.

"Second, let's follow common sense rules of good sportsmanship and courtesy.

"Third, let's each one of us resolve that, either as drivers or as pedestrians, we will stay alert and careful, mindful of the constant possibility of accidents caused by negligence.

"If every one of us will do these three things, Safe Driving Day can be a day without a traffic accident in all of America.

ALLAN F. GISE LEAVES $4,000

The will of Allan F. Gise, late of Gettysburg, has been filed with the office of the register and recorder. It names the Gettysburg National Bank as executor of his estate, valued at $4,000.

The will leaves $500 to the Gettysburg National Bank, to be invested in behalf of the Heidersburg Lutheran Church, Heidersburg. Another $500 is to be similarly invested for the Trinity Evangelical and Reformed Church. The remainder of his estate, after the payment of all debts, expenses and taxes, is to be divided. One-half is bequeathed to James and Mildred Shenk, 3 Chambersburg St., one-fourth to Miss Mary Jane Svarnas, 72 Springs Ave., and the remaining one-fourth to Richard and Joyce Hall, Chambersburg.

Mr. Gise died Saturday evening in the Temple University hospital at the age of 51.

MORE THAN 1200 HEAR BARITONE FRIDAY NIGHT

An enthusiastic audience of more than 1,200 listened to William Warfield, American baritone, Friday evening in Christ Chapel, college campus, marking the opening of the Gettysburg Concert Association. At the close of the program the applause was so long that Mr. Warfield, who was recalled to the stage a number of times, laughingly remarked, "I'll have to sing 'Ol' Man River' or I won't get home tonight."

Prefers Concert Singing

He said "I prefer concert singing, although I hope to do some more movies." Asked if he had a favorite selection, the singer said "No, I haven't but I think the American public usually associates me with 'Ol' Man River.'"

His encores included "I Got Plenty O' Nuttin'" and "It Ain't Necessarily So" from "Porgy and Bess." At the second encore he accompanied himself as he sang an Old English folk song, "Oh, No John!"

He is presently on a cross-country tour and has tentative plans to return to Europe next fall. Mrs. Warfield, a soprano, is presently singing with the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

Mr. Warfield was accompanied by Dr. Otto Herz, well-known accompanist, who is associate director of the New York College of Music.

Covers Wide Range

Warfield's selections ranged from Handel's solemn recitative and air from "Judas Macabaeus" to Massenet's aria, "Vision Fugitive" (Fleeing Vision) from "Herodiade."

Opening with Mozart's "Mentre to l'ascolto" (As I Leave You), the singer introduced a classic note to (Continued on Page 3)

PUSH PROBE OF CRASH AND FIRE FATALITY HERE

State Police and County Coroner Dr. C. G. Crist today continued their investigation into the accident Thursday evening which cost the life of Ernest Calvin Oyer, 26, manager of the Royal Jewelers store here. No date has been set as yet for the inquest. Police hope to determine why Oyer's car was parked on the Lincoln Highway 5.4 miles west of here prior to being struck by a truck. After the accident the car burst into flames and, after Cashtown and Gettysburg firemen had brought the blaze under control, Oyer was found in the destroyed car.

Police checked reports that Oyer's car had been in a garage for repairs within a day or so of the accident, and learned that there had been some trouble with the battery-ignition system, that repairs had been made, and that the car should have been in good condition when Oyer started the trip home Thursday night that led to his death. The Marine Corps veteran was a native of Scotland, Franklin County, and his parents reside there.

Members of the fire police from Cashtown were commended today for the manner in which they directed traffic on the Lincoln Highway immediately upon arrival at the scene of the fire Thursday night. They permitted safe movement of vehicular traffic while the Cashtown firemen fought the fire. Cashtown was later joined by Gettysburg in fighting the blaze.

Bollingers Will Observe Golden Wedding Monday

MR. AND MRS. HARVEY E. BOLLINGER

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey E. Bollinger, N. Washington St., Monday will observe the 50th anniversary of their marriage.

The couple was married December 6, 1904, at the home of Mr. Bollinger's parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Adam Bollinger, near Greenmount. Born on the Codori farm, Emmitsburg Road, she has resided nearly all of her life in Gettysburg. For almost 18 years she has been court matron for the Adams County courts, a post that requires attending to lady jurors on murder trials, during which the jurors may not be carried overnight and are confined for the period to a hotel. During the recent Nathan trial when the jury was confined for three nights, Mrs. Bollinger was in charge of the women jurors.

The Bollingers are active members of Christ Lutheran Church. They are planning a quiet observance of the anniversary Monday, with no special plans made for the day.

Five Children Perish In Apartment House Blaze

CLEVELAND (AP)—Five children died in a flash fire at an East Side apartment house early today.

Fire Chief Clarence Ryan said the children all were on the third floor of the building at 2675 E. 51st St. and probably were suffocated in their sleep.

The children were identified as Frank Johnson, 5; his sisters, Estella Lou, 3, and Janice, 6; and James Duvall, 4, and Vicki Duvall, 2.

The parents of the Duvall children, James Duvall, 24, and his wife, Roberta, 21, were in their downstairs apartment when the fire broke out. Mrs. R. Johnson, 24, mother of the other three victims, was visiting her sister nearby when a neighbor notified her of the fire.

Chief Ryan said he thought the children may have been playing with matches.

Firemen estimated 26 persons occupied the 2 1/2-story frame dwelling. Most of the fire damage, amounting to an estimated $3,000, was confined to the third floor.

The fire first was noticed about 2:30 a.m. by a neighbor passing by. He threw bricks and a bottle through a second-floor window in an effort to arouse the occupants, he said.

CHEST FUND UP $994 IN WEEK; NEED $2,090.89

Three divisions of the Gettysburg Community Chest campaign have topped their quotas and reports are incomplete from two other divisions but the drive went into the last day of its "Clean Up Week" $2,090.89 short of its $17,000 goal.

There was a $50 donation from an individual Friday and other smaller gifts that brought the current total up to $14,909.11.

"Clean Up Week" has seen $994.50 added to the Chest fund and Campaign Chairman John MacPhail expects there will be more donations today and over the weekend.

Three Honor Divisions

The honor divisions which have topped their goals in the drive are the Seminary and College, Local Businesses and Local Industry.

The Seminary and College were assigned a quota of $500 and have given $887.50 or 177 per cent of their goal. Local Industries have given $1,366 after being assigned a goal of $1,000 and local businesses topped their $1,500 goal with total donations of $1,685.50.

Women's organizations were asked to raise $500 and have given $424 or 85 per cent of that figure. Gifts from out-of-town businesses which are not yet complete have totaled $830 toward a goal of $1,000.

Service clubs and fraternal organizations had a goal of $2,650 and have given $2,112.50 or about 80 per cent of that goal.

1,500 TEACHERS AT MUSIC FETE

HARRISBURG (P)—Panel discussions on opera and a concert by the Franklin and Marshall College concert band today highlighted closing sessions of the third annual Music Educators Assn. convention.

More than 1,500 music teachers from all over the commonwealth were on hand for activities of the final meeting of the three-day convention.

In a music program last night, the Bucknell University choir, under the direction of William D. McRae, presented a program of singing. In other activities the Youth Symphony Orchestra presented a series of instrumental selections under the baton of Noah Claus.

More than 100 junior and senior high school musicians from the Harrisburg area took part in the program.

At an afternoon session Dr. Ralph E. Pickett, associate dean of the school of education at New York University, discussed the "teachers job in education."

WHALLEY HAS 99 VOTE LEAD

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (P)—Republican J. Irving Whalley now has a 99-vote lead in the 36th State Senatorial district with recounts completed in two of three counties. Control of the State Senate hangs on the result.

The district comprises Fulton, Bedford and Somerset counties. Recounts in Fulton and Bedford counties have been completed. In Somerset county the recount has been recessed until Monday. The ballots were cast in the Nov. 2 election.

In the official count for the district Whalley had a 64-vote lead over his Democratic rival, John Miller. However, John Miller, Republican from Beaver County, says he will register as a Democrat in a few weeks, which would make the lineup 26-24 in favor of the GOP.

Miller's vote could give the Democrats a tie vote in the 1955 Senate if the recount upsets the official returns. The Democratic lieutenant governor would then have a vote on organizational questions, giving the Democrats control.

Three Couples Get Marriage Licenses

Marriage licenses have been issued by the Clerk of Courts to the following couples:

William Earl Hankey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy R. Hankey, 19 Fifth St., and Teresa Mary Martin, daughter of Mrs. Estella E. Carbaugh, New Oxford R. 1, and the late Joseph B. Martin.

Hooks HS Ring Lost 22 Years

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (P)—Paul T. Murphy didn't get any fish when he went to West Arrow Lake the other day, but he sure caught himself a friend.

Murphy hauled in his line at one point to check bait and found a ring dangling from the hook. The ring bore some initials and the name of a high school.

Yesterday, Murphy returned the ring to Dr. Ross B. Zerbe at nearby Tremont and was told the ring had been lost in the lake 22 years ago.

250 CHILDREN WELCOME SANTA AT TANEYTOWN

Santa Claus officially opened the Christmas season in Taneytown Friday evening when he arrived in town at 7 o'clock to turn on the community Christmas lights. Nearly 250 children were present at the event sponsored by the Taneytown Chamber of Commerce.

Santa, in a carriage drawn by two Belgian horses, was met at the end of W. Baltimore St., and escorted to the square by the drum and bugle corps of the Hesson-Snyder Post No. 120 of the Taneytown American Legion. As he approached the square, the Christmas lights were turned on. The lights are erected on the four main streets of town, East and West Baltimore Sts., Frederick St. and York St., extending about two blocks from the square.

Brief Program
A brief program was held in front of the mid-town Electric Store, E. Baltimore St., with Merwyn Fuss, president of the Taneytown Chamber of Commerce, acting as master of ceremonies. The invocation was offered by Rev. Glenn L. Stahl, pastor of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church. Greetings were extended by Mr. Fuss, Raymond Perry, mayor, and Santa Claus, after which, Santa greeted and treated the children in the Fire Engine House.

Paul Sell furnished recorded music before the parade. The following members of the Chamber of Commerce arranged the Christmas program: J. H. Ommert, Charles Cashman, Raymond Feiser, Carroll Wantz, Merwyn Fuss, Charles Arnold and Bernard Arnold.

An adult Christmas party will be held December 18 at 2 o'clock on the Town Parking Lot by the Chamber of Commerce.
Concert on Sunday
A Christmas concert will be presented Sunday evening by the Taneytown Community Chorus in the high school auditorium at 8:15 o'clock. The Girl Scouts of the community will sing Christmas carols throughout town December 20, followed by a party at the home of the scoutleader.

Andy Alexander, a senior at A and M College, Oklahoma, and a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Alexander, Taneytown, has been chosen as a member of the meats judging team of Oklahoma A and M College to judge at the International Live Stock Exposition in Chicago this week.

Merwyn C. Fuss recently returned from Boston, Mass., where he served as a voting delegate of the United Lutheran Church to the General Assembly of the National Council of the Church of Christ of the U.S.A. Mrs. Fuss and their daughter, Alice, accompanied Mr. Fuss.

The Good Will Class of Flohr's Lutheran Church, McKnightstown, will meet Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock with Mrs. Clyde Topper, Mummansburg.

Man Is Cleared In Poet's Death

PHILADELPHIA (P)—Charles Cort, 24, has been cleared by a Grand Jury of charges he caused the death of Erwin Clarkson Garrett, 74-year-old poet whose fame centered around his verse tributes to the American doughboy of World War I.

Assistant Dist. Atty. A. Charles Peruto said he agreed with the Grand Jury's verdict yesterday that "there wasn't enough evidence for an indictment on a homicide charge."

Cort was held on a "homicide by pushing" charge by Magistrate Vincent Dean last Oct. 26, two days after Garrett died in German town Hospital.

It was testified that on Oct. 13 Cort and Garrett, who lived across the street from one another, became engaged in an argument over the barking of Cort's dog.

3 Runaway Girls Returned To Parents

Three young girls were returned to their parents by borough police Friday, their flight from their Baltimore homes stopped short. Two of the girls are 15 years old, and the third is 14.

The manager of a local rooming house became suspicious of the girls and notified police at about 4 p.m. Friday. Police questioned the girls and then held them, until their parents came for them, at about 9:30 o'clock Friday night.

Singer-Dancer Sues For Loss Of Eye

LOS ANGELES (P)—Singer-dancer Sammy Davis Jr. filed suit yesterday for $150,000 damages as a result of an automobile collision near San Bernardino, Calif., last Nov. 19 in which he lost his left eye.

The suit was directed against Mrs. Helen S. Boss, 72, of Van Nuys, Calif., identified as driver of a car that was in a collision with Davis', and Mrs. Beale Ross of Akron, Ohio, who was Mrs. Boss' passenger.

"Realm of The Wild," a motion picture, will be presented by Frank Wagner, forester of the Michaux State Forest staff, at the meeting of the Upper Adams Lions Club Tuesday evening at 6:30 in the Biglerville School cafeteria. Mr. Wagner will also speak on "Pennsylvania Timber Conservation." Donald Bosserman and the Citizenship and Patriotism committee, consisting of Maurice Dugan, Grover C. Myers, Roy Martin and Clyde Sell, are in charge of the program.

A net profit of $1,683.26 was realized from the 1954 South Mountain Fair restaurant and corn game concession operated by the Upper Adams Lions Club.

The Good Will Class of Flohr's Lutheran Church, McKnightstown, will meet Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock with Mrs. Clyde Topper, Mummansburg.

Christmas plans are now being made in churches, homes, clubs, and schools in the upper communities in preparation for the 6th annual Christmas parade on Wednesday evening at 7:15 o'clock in Biglerville. A definite part of this celebration are the lights and decorations throughout the town. The electricians are presently busy stringing the laurel and lights through the town. Home decorations will again be judged in three categories: Decorated doorways, Christmas scenes and overall lighting. The judging will take place on Wednesday, December 15. The committee in charge asks that no home be without lights.

Writ Sought For Convicted Slayer

SCRANTON, Pa. (P)—U. S. District Judges John W. Murphy and Albert L. Watson were asked yesterday to grant a writ of habeas corpus to David Darcy, 28-year-old convicted slayer.

Attorney Charles J. Margiotti presented arguments before the two jurists on behalf of Darcy, convicted of first degree murder in July, 1948, in connection with the shooting death of a bystander, William Kelly, during a Bucks County, Pa., tavern holdup.

Darcy and three companions — Harry Zeitz, Harold Foster and Felix Capone, all of Philadelphia — were accused of participating in the tavern robbery. Capone pleaded guilty and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Margiotti contended in his argument Darcy's constitutional rights were violated when he was convicted on the first degree murder charge. The court took the matter under advisement.

Has Created Animal With Two Heads

LONDON (P)—Moscow Radio says Dr. Valentin Demikhov, a Soviet surgeon who has successfully replaced the hearts and lungs of dogs, has now created an animal with two heads.

A broadcast last night reported: "The head of a puppy was grafted upon the neck of a dog just below its other head. The operation was quite successful. The puppy's head showed all the signs of life, reacted to stimuli and even exhibited the usual playfulness of a puppy." The experiments look toward the possibilities of replacing vital human organs, the broadcast explained.

Today's Talk

INTERESTING PEOPLE
The most interesting of all people are those who are most interested in other people. They get so much of their knowledge and ideas from others, thus presenting an overall viewpoint, which is always worth consideration and attention.

The listener is so much more interesting than the careless and futile talker. The late Henry Ford was not a great talker, but when he did talk he was worth listening to. A reporter on a great city newspaper wrote a book of his experiences, which he called "You Meet Such Interesting People." The reporter does exactly that, for a newspaper wants to devote its news columns and feature selections to interesting items about people.

The late Dr. Crane was asked by a magazine to write an article about the most interesting person he knew—and he wrote an article about himself! He gave as his reason that he knew more about himself than he did of anyone else.

If I were to take a trip around the world I would study up on the people living in the various countries, for people are more interesting than any country. They dress differently, talk and think differently, and work differently. It is interesting to know all sorts of people, no matter where located.

R. B. Cunningham Graham, in one of his essays called "Success," made the statement that the man who failed was far more interesting a character than the one who succeeded. We can often learn more about such a failure than from a success. He is a more dramatic figure. He invites sympathy, and often admiration.

People who have seen much, experienced much, loved much, and suffered much, are always interesting people. The friends to whom we tie tightest are those who have never lived dull and inactive lives. They are the interesting people.

Just Folks

END OF AUTUMN

The trees are bare of leaf today.

The patch of lawn long shadows arch.

The herald frost has called to say King Winter's troops are on march.

The spring and summer long have fled

And autumn very soon will go.

The wind turns cold and overhead

Gray clouds will shortly bring the snow.

Vacant is every song bird's nest.

Birds need, it seems, blue skies to sing.

The lovely things once blossom dressed,

Deep in their beds are slumbering.

When winter comes to hide with snow

The garden that is bleak and bare,

'Twill never see and never know

The loveliness that once was there.

Dillsburg

HARRISBURG (P)—The Dillsburg Water Co., Dillsburg, asked the Public Utility Commission Friday to authorize a $4,253 annual rate increase for 444 consumers in that York County Borough, effective Feb. 1.

All except public fire protection rates would be increased under the new schedule. The boost is the first sought by the utility since 1920.

William Kendeheart of the county State Highway department office reported this morning that he had two snow plows working in the northeast portions of the county to remove the season's first heavy snowfall.

Captain Gifford Promoted To Major: The promotion of Captain Roy W. Gifford, Oak Ridge, to major has been announced.

Major Gifford, a medical officer with the 132nd Service unit, is assistant chief of surgical service at the Fort George G. Meade regional hospital. He entered the army September 4, 1942.

Pair Get Bear: Donald Garretson, of Aspers, and Ernest Ogden, of Benderville, shot a 150-pound bear while hunting in Clinton County last week. Other members of the party included Lloyd Garretson, Claude Miller and Hobart Heller, all of Biglerville. The men were joined later in the week by Paul Guise, Herman Warner, Charles Rouzer and James Sandoe, of Biglerville; Donald Munshour, of Gettysburg, and Clair Black and son, Kenneth, of Harrisburg.

SAYS DISSENT NOT PRINTED BY COURT'S ORDERS

HARRISBURG (P)—Laurence H. Eldredge, reporter for the state Supreme Court, said Friday he withheld a "dissenting opinion" by Justice Michael A. Musmanno in the Westmoreland County photo ban case on instructions from the court.

Eldredge made the statement in an answer filed in Dauphin County Court to a suit by Justice Musmanno for an order directing Eldredge to include his opinion in publishing the record of the case in state reports.

Eldredge denied in his answer that the paper Musmanno submitted was "a valid minority or dissenting opinion." He said Musmanno wrote it while the court was in recess and other justices did not have opportunity to consider it.

Picture Banned

Musmanno said his "dissenting opinion" referred to the court's action in dismissing without prejudice an appeal by the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' Assn. from a rule by the Westmoreland County Court banning picture taking within the Court House.

Eldredge said in a statement that former Associate Justice Owen J. Roberts of the U.S. Supreme Court and former U.S. Sen. George Wahpton Pepper would represent him in the suit "without compensation as an important public service."

East Berlin

EAST BERLIN — Miss Darlene Grove, a junior at Mary Washington College in Virginia, spent the Thanksgiving holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Purley H. Grove, Hanover, formerly of here, and with them and her sister, Nina, visited in East Berlin during the recess.

The George F. Kennan family who have been spending several months near Princeton University where the former ambassador to Moscow attends the Institute for Advanced Study, spent the Thanksgiving season at their farm west of town and while there also celebrated the fifth birthday of their son, Christopher.

This evening at 7 o'clock begins the last evening of the three-night Christmas bazaar at Paradise Agricultural school auditorium for the benefit of the expense of repairing the roof of Paradise Catholic Church.

Charles E. Bechtel has returned to George Washington University after the Thanksgiving recess spent at the R. 2 home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bechtel. The Bechtels also entertained their elder son, William, a college student at Elizabethtown College.

Another East Berlin high school alumnus home from college for the Thanksgiving holidays was George Myers, near town, now a junior at Penn State University.

Darwin J. Dissinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dissinger, near Hoover's Schoolhouse, has returned to the DeVry Television school, Chicago, after spending a vacation at home.

Visitors of local friends during the Thanksgiving season included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller, Hanover.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Burgard and son, Jeffrey, Hanover, were visitors during the weekend at the home of Mr. Burgard's grandmother, Mrs. Minnie Sunday, with whom he resided throughout his boyhood.

The Mite Society of Zwilling Reformed Church has scheduled a meeting at the church Tuesday evening, December 7, to wind up reports, etc., from their public Thanksgiving Day dinner and supper for the benefit of their kitchen fund.

A group of teen-age students of Paradise Agricultural School spent the Thanksgiving weekend with their chaplain, Father Louis S. Dougherty, on a sightseeing tour in Washington, D. C., where the chaplain has a number of well known national figures as his personal friends. Through the arrangement of one of these men, the Paradise group was escorted beyond the usual public portions of the White House and permitted to visit President Eisenhower's private quarters although the Chief Executive was not there at the time.

Father Dougherty, pastor of Paradise Catholic parish, reports that, in response to letters from various parishioners and friends, donations toward the expense of church roofing repairs came during the past week from a "Maine woods lumberjack" as well as a "12-year-old Brooklyn, N. Y., schoolgirl."

Elaine Heiner has returned to the Penn School for the Deaf, Philadelphia, after spending a Thanksgiving vacation with relatives and friends here.

Another student at the school who spent the recess here is Paul Moyer, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Moyer, near Holtzschwamm Church. Thomas E. Weaver, a sophomore at Delone High School, is able to be about after medical treatment for a fracture of his left arm sustained during athletic participation at school.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Lerew, who were married November 14, are spending some time with local relatives while awaiting completion of their new house on Water St. The couple spent two weeks in the South after their marriage.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the local fire company will hold a public card party this evening at the new fire hall.

MAN WHO SAW KILLER, SLAIN

PHENIX CITY, Ala. (P)—A witness who may have seen A. L. Patterson's killer was knifed to death here on Thursday after making urgent telephone calls to the sheriff and the newly elected attorney general, Patterson's.

Johnnie F. Griffin, 35-year-old Phenix City city employee, was stabbed in the throat 24 hours or more after he had testified before an emergency grand jury which is considering murder indictments in the Patterson killing.

National Guardsmen still patrolling the city five months after Patterson's death arrested a 16-year-old Negro and said he admitted the stabbing, blaming the white man for provoking a fight.

Col. James N. Brown, military chief of police, said there appeared to be no connection between Griffin's death and his appearance before the grand jury Wednesday.

Another officer, Lt. Charles Cook, quoted the Negro, Jerry C. Washington, as saying Griffin hit him during an argument on the street and that he slashed back with a knife. Washington was taken into custody four hours later at his home.

Mummasburg

MUMMASBURG—Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Keefer and son, Bradley, Mrs. Esta Swisher and Miss Mae Wetzel spent Thanksgiving Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Keefer's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Crouse Allentown.

Mrs. Richard Hall and children, Cynthia and Gerard, Chambersburg, were weekend visitors at the home of Mrs. Hall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jere Keefer.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lemmon, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Lemmon, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leatherman, Harrisburg, were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harmon and Mrs. Nellie Leatherman.

Mrs. Florence Wilson and Barbara Ann Wilson spent Thanksgiving Day at the home of Mrs. Wilson's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Leatherman, near Hanover.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Emlet and son, Rodney, and daughter, Jane, near Wrightsville, spent Thanksgiving Day at the home of Mrs. Emlet's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wilson, and family.

On The House

The Associated Press
Do-it-yourself handymen have been getting into a little trouble lately. There was the case of a home being picketed because the owner was painting his own house. And then there was a man who had to tear down his nearly completed porch because he neglected to apply for a permit and was building too close to the boundary line.

Of course, in most instances everybody seems to pitch in and give the do-it-yourselfer a hand, or a deluge of advice. But we were told the other day about a neighbor getting "sore" because a man was keeping his house and grounds too neat.

There probably isn't any way you can prevent neighborly jealousy over your ambition, and the right to picket or otherwise demonstrate seems to be a recognized American sport, but there are other more serious pitfalls we do-it-yourselfers can avoid. Zoning laws, building codes, fire and sanitary regulations are among them.

List Of Hazards
A list of hazards recently was sent out to lumber dealers in northeastern states. Entitled "Help Your Customers Avoid These Do-It-Yourself Pitfalls," it reads:

"1. Zoning Laws—Can the project be done at all under the law?"

"2. Building Codes—Does the law say HOW it must be done?"

"3. Electrical—Will wiring be involved? Will a licensed electrician do it? Or (at the very least) will one inspect it? Will electrical work (and trouble causing short cuts) ultimately be concealed? Are adequate circuits provided?"

"4. Plumbing—Is extensive plumbing necessary? Who will install it? Is he licensed? Will the work pass inspection for sanitary and other reasons?"

"5. Carpentry—Has the customer the necessary knowledge? Does he understand stresses, the basic engineering principles? Has he bitten off more than he can chew?"

"6. And Most Important—Is his project in any way a detriment to the safety, health or welfare of anybody?"

Lumber Dealer's Interest
You may wonder why lumber dealers should be concerned about all this. Your continued good will is the reason. That list was compiled by the editors of Lumberland, trade publication of the New York Lumber Trade Association.

"Promote do-it-yourself for profits," the editors advised the lumber dealers, "but don't go overboard. . . . Hell hath no fury like the homeowner betrayed!"

The lumber dealers were urged to find out two things from a customer: "(a) what is the fellow going to do and (b) can he do it?"

The lumber retailer can, by exercising tact and diplomacy, forestall a fiasco. It's not easy of course—but then neither is registering at the poorhouse."

Well it's nice to have the lumber dealers taking our interests to heart, but it doesn't relieve us of all responsibility. We might as well take advantage of their practical advice, especially if they are going

N.J. Industrialist Is Elected NAM Head

NEW YORK (P)—A tall, soft spoken New Jersey industrialist who began his business career in a brokerage house at the age of 16 is the new president of the National Assn. of Manufacturers.

Henry G. Riter 3rd, 62, president of Thomas A. Edison, Inc., West Orange, N. J., was chosen at the NAM's annual convention on Thursday night to succeed H. C. McClellan, president of Old Colony Paint & Chemical Co., Los Angeles, Calif.

A native of Philadelphia, Riter got his first job with the brokerage firm of Chandler Bros. & Co. after graduating from Germantown Academy in 1908. He worked with other investment companies and became a member of Dillon, Read & Co. in 1927.

Four years ago Riter became president of Edison.

He also is board chairman of Copperweld Steel Co., and a limited partner in Riter & Co., a New York investment firm he organized in 1933.

JURIST OUSTS ANTI-TRUST SUIT

CHICAGO (P)—U.S. Dist. Judge Walter J. Labuy Friday dismissed the government's civil antitrust suit against the DuPont interests, General Motors Corp. and the United States Rubber Co.

Judge Labuy held that the government had "failed to prove conspiracy, monopolization, a restraint of trade, or any reasonable probability of a restraint."

The judge held "there has been no conspiracy to restrain or to monopolize trade, and no restriction or monopolization of the market."

"The essence of the conspiracy and restraint which the government charged and sought to prove in this case," he said, "is the alleged limitation on General Motors' ability to deal as it pleased with competitors of Du Pont and United States Rubber."

Labuy's opinion said "the court finds that there has not been, nor is there at present, a conspiracy to restrain or to monopolize trade, and no limitation or restraint upon General Motors' freedom to deal freely and fully with competitors of Du Pont and United States Rubber."

He continued "there is no limitation or restraint upon the freedom of General Motors to deal with its chemical discoveries, no restraint or monopolization of the General Motors market, and no restraint or monopolization of the trade and commerce between Du Pont and United States Rubber."

Brief, Fast-Idling Of Motor Held Good Practice At Starting Cold Mornings; Opinions Vary

By FREDERICK C. RUSSELL

There's no driving as perfect as that of a motorist headed for traffic court to answer a charge for speeding.

Compromise For Starting

We are currently in the season of year when a conflict between engineering viewpoints may be a source of disturbance to the average driver who wants to do right by his car's faithful engine. Several years ago engineers for one of the leading manufacturers urged motorists to start right off with a cold engine and not to let it fast idle for warming up. The argument was that this would permit the automatic choke to do a better job of feeding the right mixture and that the engine would be less likely to load up with unburned gas. Now we are told by an equally important segment of the industry that the driver should allow the engine to warm up a bit by fast idling it in the driveway before starting out into traffic. These advisors point out that during the first five miles of a cold started engine fuel consumption is 30 per cent above normal.

Since car design and car maintenance are a matter of compromise, I think it is fair to follow something of a mid-course. I fully appreciate that idling loads up a motor. It often disturbs the automatic choke control which is designed for immediate use of a cold engine. But starting right out with a cold engine invites stalling, increases wear on rings and cylinder walls, and does waste fuel. So why not strike a mid-point here? Give the engine a little warming-up time by fast idling it, and then start off. Idling should be fast enough to show charge on the ammeter, but not fast enough to put any strain on the oiling system. Accelerate the motor several times to prevent loading up.

For Future Reference

If driving in the rain silences an annoying grunting or squeaking in the rear of the car you can be reasonably certain that the chassis suffers from a dry rear spring or shackle. Water is simply acting as a temporary lubricant. Just to prove it to my own satisfaction I have on several occasions taken cars out into the rain.

Wrong Type of Plugs

Not all buyers of cars use them the way the manufacturers anticipated which explains why it is that sometimes an engine will be handicapped by the original equipment of spark plugs. One of the faithful readers of this column tells me that for some time he was troubled with missing in the engine, especially when closing the throttle for a slow-down from speeds of around 30 miles per hour. A more careful check on the situation revealed that the plugs were too cool a type for the way this engine was being used, the result being that the plugs were fouling. Switching to a hotter set of plugs the problem was solved.

"So many complaints are made regarding steering it isn't any wonder that the motorist whose car merely has developed a rattle in the steering system doesn't get much attention. That's why I'd like to suggest as possible cause of this annoyance the chance of wear on the steering mechanism, excessive end-play in the steering tube, worn bushings in the steering tube, wear at tie-rod ends and looseness of the steering gear where it bolts to the frame."

Just Looking Around

One of the little attentions which any car owner can give his car on those occasions when he has an opportunity to look around under the hood is to check for evidences of chafed wiring. It is surprising what a beating some insulation has to take. It is also smart to check heater hoses too. It may be rubbing at some point. Keep all such hoses and wiring as far from hot parts as possible.

Cleaning That Leather

Cleaning imitation leather calls for the same methods as for cleaning genuine leather. It is just a matter of refraining from using any cleansing agent except the suds of a mild soap. Work up the suds in a pan and apply them to the soiled upholstery with a piece of clean cheesecloth, using as little water as possible. Next wipe off with a damp cloth and then dry off the surface with a clean cloth. If this doesn't seem to remove all the dirt or grease repeat the process. Preferably do the cleaning job as soon as possible after the leather has been soiled.

For Future Reference

Here's something to clip out and save for the day when you may feel that the engine's misbehavior is due to what the trade calls "ignition missing" as opposed to missing from sticky valves or carburetor trouble:

If a miss develops it may be the result of a poor connection in the battery, ammeter and ignition switch. Breaker points may need checking including the condenser. One of the spark plugs may be cracked or the wire to it may be loose. If spark plug points are covered with carbon there may be missing at either low or high speeds. High tension current may be "leaking" over the top of the plug if its porcelain is wet.

New Note On Leakage

Detergent oils and special motor oil additives are well known as a remedy for valve and piston ring stickage but not many motorists realize that such lubricants can be useful in checking leakage. That may seem like a contradiction but the truth of it is made plain in cases where oil leaks out because of clogged lines or drain holes. One of my readers tells of checking a bad leak at the timing gear case with wise use of detergents which cleaned out the oil return hole to the crankcase. On one car with an oil slinger arrangement to prevent oil from working past the rear main engine bearing into the clutch housing there is a return line which can clog with sludge. Here again an additive may check leakage by cleaning the line so that oil can go back into the oil pan.

Work On That Panel

A surprising amount of service on instrument panels is still done by the time-honored process of being a contortionist. Sometimes those little map lights can't be reached by any other method, so don't mar the instrument panel thinking that to replace a bulb you do some trick prying off the little glass lenses. Some cars have much of the fuse system under the dash, and on one I have noticed that work cannot be done on the panel lights unless the bracket for the hand brake is first removed. To raise the upper portion of the panel where cars are equipped with wrap-around windshield it is necessary to remove several screws which you would not think had anything to do with the job.

Having Their Troubles

Q. Is it necessary to change the stroke of the acceleration pump for winter driving? H. L.

A. Only on some carburetors there is provision for altering the stroke of the pump arm. On current and late model cars there usually is no provision or need for such change.

Q. Driving in the fog the other night I was disappointed to find the lights very weak. On my car the tail-lights are wired to operate with the fog lights so that it gives me a complete secondary lighting system. The car's regular lights were bright as usual. Wm. F.

A. This is what happens when auxiliary lights are not used for long periods of time. Corrosion at various connections, as well as at the switch, account for it. If there were any trouble at the tail-lights, for instance, they would not be normally bright when operated with the headlights. You will likely find that the switch contacts are badly corroded.

Q. Is it true that there is less brake "fade" when the system is equipped with power "assist"? J. J. C.

A. In many cases fade is increased because of over-braking. However, if a driver will curb car's speed more quickly on a down-grade, release the brakes and then apply them again if needed, he can lessen the risk of fade and do a much better job of controlling the car.

Q. Can a stalled engine be restarted on a downgrade if the car is equipped with an automatic transmission? H. G. F.

A. Yes. Let the car gain a little momentum in "neutral" and then move the selector lever to the "drive" position.

Q. There is considerable noise at the oil filler pipe when I remove the little air cleaner that also serves as a cap. Does this indicate trouble with the piston rings. One friend says this means that one of the pistons is cracked. L. B.

A. On your particular car the fuel pump is driven from an arm that comes up through the oil filler pipe. I think that the noise you hear indicates trouble with the pump arm.

Q. My car has developed the annoying habit of thumping badly at the rear end whenever I go over humps in the road. It is always worse when there are passengers in the back seat. K. F. H.

A. This indicates that the rear springs are "bottoming." That is, they go all the way down on their compression so that the rear axle housing hits the spring seats. There may possibly be a broken spring leaf but more probably the springs are weak and the rear shock absorbers need servicing.

Q. Does the average oil filter cartridge remove detergents from premium oil? R. H.

A. No. The cartridge simply takes out dirt and abrasives. When the cartridge clogs the oil bypasses the filter.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 254 Fern St., West Hartford 7, Conn., and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. There is no charge.

IKE'S ATOMIC PLAN UP TODAY FOR FINAL VOTE

By TOM HOGE
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — President Eisenhower's atomic-for-peace plan comes up for a final vote in the General Assembly today. Expectations were the resolution would receive unanimous approval.

As the 60-nation body gathered for the session the United States sought Assembly action to win freedom for 11 American airmen jailed by Red China on spy charges. The move had the firm backing of Washington's 15 Korean allies.

The atomic resolution calls for the establishment of an international agency to sponsor the peaceful use and sharing of atomic energy. The United States and Britain already have offered to contribute fissionable material to start an international stockpile for peaceful purposes.

The proposal also calls for an international technical conference on peaceful atomic energy uses to be held not later than next August at a place still to be decided. Organized under U.N. auspices, this meeting would be open to all nations in the U.N. or its specialized agencies.

The resolution reflects a proposal President Eisenhower put before the assembly last Dec. 8. It notes "the urgency of international cooperation in . . . expanding the peaceful uses of atomic energy to assist in lifting the burdens of hunger, poverty and disease."

It was introduced by seven powers with atomic piles or fission raw materials. They are Australia, Belgium, Canada, France, South Africa and the United States. These powers also have been negotiating with Portugal, not a member of the U.N., toward setting up the international agency.

Case Of 11 Yanks Up
Announcement that the Assembly would be asked to consider the case of the 11 Americans jailed in Red China was made last night by Chief U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. He said the 16 Korean Allies had agreed to bring the issue up at the earliest possible date.

Lodge talked with representatives of the 16 nations shortly after a secret consultation with U.S. Secretary of State Dulles.

One Allied diplomat said, to save time, the case might go directly to the Assembly without clearing through usual committee channels. Other informants said, however, they expected the 16 nations to join Sunday or Monday in a request that the case be made a new item on the Assembly agenda. After last night's meeting, Lodge told newsmen "there is marvelous and inspiring unanimity on the vital need to get release of the 11 American men and of all others who fought as members of the U.N. Command and are detained in violation of the Korean armistice agreement."

POPE IS FOUND "MUCH BETTER, MORE CHEERFUL"

By FRANK BRUTTO
VATICAN CITY (AP) — Two cardinals emerged from a bedside audience with Pope Pius XII today and reported finding the gravely ill pontiff "much better and more cheerful."

The two prelates, Eugene Cardinal Tisserant, dean of the College of Cardinals, and Nicola Cardinal Canali, said the Pope spent a comparatively restful night.

Physicians earlier reported the 78-year-old Pius was in dangerous but no longer desperate condition. His strong heart gave hope for his survival.

"Most Cordial"

The Cardinals said the Pope was "most cordial" during the 15-minute meeting, one of several the pontiff has arranged despite his illness. He reportedly talked yesterday with Msgr. Domenico Tardini, a close associate in the vatican secretariat of state, and Msgr. Giovanni Battista Montini, recently appointed archbishop of Milan, who has been mentioned as a possible successor to the papal throne.

There has been no indication of the purpose of the meetings but there is speculation that the Pope plans to hold a bedside consistory to fill the six empty seats in the College of Cardinals.

The pontiff's apparent improvement backed up the announced opinion of five medical experts who held emergency consultations at his bedside early this morning. They said the "perceptible improvement" permits good hope the frail leader of the world's 425 million Roman Catholics will recover. Heart Carries Him

Two of the specialists told the Associated Press later the Pope's strong heart likely will carry him through the present crisis. Both emphasized, however, that the pontiff remained in critical condition. "I believe that he is no longer in imminent danger of death," said Dr. Luigi Vittorio de Stefano. In a separate interview, the noted Italian surgeon, Prof. Raffaele Paolucci di Calmaggione, expressed a similar view.

The pontiff's heart already has pulled him through dangerous illnesses the past two winters. Now again it is a major factor in hopes for his recovery from the ailment that brought him close to death Thursday.

Dr. De Stefano said the heart was holding up well, although an aggravated stomach condition has prevented the Pope from taking any food by mouth since Sunday. His frail body has been wracked by sporadic attacks of hiccuping and nausea.

The condition includes an inflammation of the peritoneum, the membrane lining the abdominal cavity.

"If his heart had been weaker," Dr. De Stefano said, "there would have been a chance that Thursday's collapse would have been fatal."

Shortly before the five specialists issued their brief bulletin, an official Vatican spokesman said the pontiff was suffering intermittent fevers and his temperature was "continuously fluctuating."

Long Consultation

Dr. De Stefano, a leading surgeon in Rome's Saviour of the World Hospital, said the consultation at the Pope's bedside lasted two hours.

REVAMPING OF SENATE RULES BEING URGED

By JOHN CHADWICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. Watkins (R-Utah) and Stennis (D-Miss.) urged today that the Senate revamp its rules governing investigating committees as a follow up to its condemnation of Sen. McCarthy's conduct.

Watkins said rules changes proposed by the special censure committee he headed "would help to bring about needed reforms" in the procedures of Senate investigating committees.

Stennis, who served with Watkins on the special committee, said in a separate interview the new Senate should adopt the recommended rules changes after it convenes next month.

Four Changes Offered
The six-member bipartisan committee suggested four Senate rules changes in its report recommending that the Wisconsin Republican's conduct be condemned. The committee said it felt "much of the criticism against investigative committee hearings would have been avoided" if certain rules changes had been in effect.

The Senate voted, 67-22, late Thursday to condemn McCarthy's conduct on grounds he had obstructed the Senate's "constitutional processes" and had "tended to bring the Senate into dishonor and disrepute."

Watkins and Stennis said the recommended changes were not pushed at the special session just ended because the Senate Rules Committee already is studying various suggestions for "a code of fair procedures" to apply to Senate investigating committees.

Report Ready January 5

Chairman Jenner (R-Ind.) of the Rules Committee said several weeks ago his group would have a report ready by the time the new Congress meets Jan. 5.

Watkins said he would be willing to go before Jenner's committee to urge adoption of the rules changes recommended by the special censure group.

One of the proposed changes would exempt under certain conditions — bar one-man hearings such as those McCarthy has conducted as chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee.

Mail Check Issue Alive

Another recommended change would permit witnesses to be questioned only by committee members or by authorized staff personnel. A third would bar public disclosure of testimony taken in closed hearings, except by ma-spiritual condition," he added.

"I cannot say the same for his physical condition, at least for now. However, I am glad to announce that the Pope is recovering very rapidly. I believe that he is no more in imminent danger of death."

Chile, Ecuador And Peru Sign Agreement

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Chile, Ecuador and Peru have signed agreements aimed at preserving and developing natural resources in their territorial waters. All three nations claims these waters extend 200 miles off their coasts.

Peru recently fined five whaling ships owned by Greek-born shipowner Aristotle Onassis three million dollars on charges of operating within its territorial waters without permission.

Panama, where Onassis' fleet was registered, has protested that the 200-mile claim violates international law.

Majority Vote of a Committee.

The fourth proposed change would require vouchers covering expenditures by any investigating committee to be accompanied by its chairman's signed statement that the investigation was conducted in accordance with Senate rules.

In a side matter related to the censure issue, a special two-man Senate committee recommended yesterday that the facts about a check put on McCarthy's mail in 1952 be referred to the Justice Department for possible action. The recommendation will go to the Senate after it returns.

Strongly Opposed

Under a mail check, or "cover," postal officials make note of the names and addresses of persons sending letters, cards, etc. to specified individuals. Sen. Hayden (D-Ariz.), a member of the elections group in 1952, said in the Senate the check was used in this case as part of an effort to find out if McCarthy was speculating with money sent to him for use in fighting communism.

The special committee, consisting of Sens. Ferguson (R-Mich.) and George (D-Ga.), declared it condemned "in strong language . . . the use of mail covers by a Senate committee or its staff." Ferguson and George described the mail Operations are expected to begin shortly to bring water from the borough supply into the Cross Keys Brethren Home, situated just outside borough limits in the former Cross Keys hotel building. Because of the special needs of the aged guests for a never-failing water supply, arrangements have been made to have this work done to replace a pumping system.

SANTA AND THE MARS KING

By Lucrece Hudgins Beale

NOPSIS: When a flying saucer was seen by a farmer in Tom's the little boy yearned to see for himself. One day he was in the air about his great dream in front of a stone elf named some. The statue surprised by suddenly speaking.

CHAPTER TWO
THE AWFUL TUNNEL
en Handsome, the ugly elf, right out loud for the first in Tom's life, for the first in history, even, why Tom stared at him and he speechless.

the elf spoke again.
you want to find out about saucers why don't you go somebody who flies? That's I'd do."

n never took his eyes off the statue. In fact, his eyes were popping out of his head. He to speak but his voice came in a little squeak and said ng. It was as if he were the t.

dsome went right on talk- "Take Santa Claus. He must round quite a bit with those eer of his. Why don't you k him what he thinks of this : saucer instead of sitting d here asking me every "

n gulped three times and y he was able to speak. -I didn't know I really I me when I talked to " ood grief! Then why have you s brought your troubles e?" ell, I—you—I always pretend- ou could hear me and that : it about the same thing." exactly," said the elf. "If you nd something long enou gh hard enough pretty soon it's "

h!" whispered Tom.
ow about this flying saucer e so curious about. Why not Santa Claus?"

—but—I—I've never seen San- laus in my whole life! How I ever find him?"

"ell," confessed the elf. "I've seen him either but I have friends who see quite a bit of "They fly, too."

"No are your friends?" "Witches."

"Witches?" "Of course. Haven't you heard of ween witches? Go ask them to get to Santa Land."

ut, I don't know any witches," red Tom.

ould you some of my best ds are witches. I'll take you m. Wait a minute while I get of this thing."

ddenly, instead of one elf on ountain there were two. They : exactly alike only one of them made of stone and the other a real live elf. Now the live was climbing out of the stone were in a tunnel which seem- ed so long Tom thought it would have no end.

Cobwebs drifted against his face as he felt his way after the elf. It was a dark and frightful place. "Just right for witches," Tom thought and he shuddered.

Suddenly a crashing noise sounded through the tunnel, like water rushing down. Tom realized with a start the elf had dis- appeared.

"Handsomen! Handsomen! Where are you?" Tom screamed and he began running madly through the tunnel.

MASON OWLETT CALLS HIS FOES DISGRUNTLED

HARRISBURG (AP)—G. Mason Owlett feels two state Republican leaders have demanded his removal as GOP National Commit- teeman from Pennsylvania be- cause they are "disgruntled los- ers" and need a "goat."

"There is a tendency when peo- ple lose themselves to find some- body to be the goat," Owlett told a newsman last night.

The president of the Pennsyl- nia Manufacturer's Assn. directed his remarks at Kenneth F. Kres- sler, Northampton County GOP chairman, and Andrew J. Gleason, Johnstown attorney.

Both have asked that Owlett be removed to "facilitate party reor- ganization."

"I don't hear anybody else throughout the state asking that I be removed except for a few dis- gruntled losers," Owlett said, add- ing:

Two Years To Serve
"I was elected to a four-year term on the National Committee and I still have two years to go."

Both Kressler and Gleason are members of the state GOP Ex- ecutive Committee which State Chairman Miles Horst says he hopes to reorganize by Christmas.

Kressler, who lost in his bid for election to the state Senate in the Nov. 2 election to Democrat in- cumbent Joseph J. Yosko, said two days ago that it was "absolutely essential" that Owlett be removed if the party is to be rebuilt to "gain the confidence of the people."

Owlett said Gleason was allowed to resign from his post as head of

SENATE BACKS NOMINATIONS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate confirmed a flock of President El- senhower's noncontroversial nomi- nations on Thursday before quitting work until next month.

But Sen. Langer (R-ND) an- nounced he would fight the nomi- nation of U.S. Circuit Judge John Marshall Harlan of New York to the Supreme Court next year. Lan- ger, now chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, will become ranking Republican member of that group when the Democrats take over in January.

One of the Senate's last acts of the session was confirmation of a host of ambassadors, federal judges, attorneys and marshals. It approved more than 10,000 promo- tions in the armed services and hundreds of similar upgrades in the public health and foreign serv- ices.

Major nominations confirmed in- cluded that of Dr. Willard F. Lib- by, a University of Chicago scien- tist, as a member of the Atomic Energy Commission. Sen. Kefau- ver (D-Tenn.) announced he was dropping his opposition and con- firmation followed.

Among others approved were: Carter L. Burgess of South Car- olina as assistant secretary of De- fense; David S. Smith of Con- necticut as assistant secretary of the Air Force; Christian A. Herter Jr. of Massachusetts as general coun- sel of the Foreign Operations Ad- ministration.

Although many old people have settled in California and Florida in recent years, New England has a higher proportion of old people than any other section of the country.

the Johnstown office of the PMA rather than be dismissed.

Gleason, Owlett said earlier, was "fired" "from the post four years ago because of "disloyalty." Gleason contended his resigned because of political differences be- tween himself and Owlett.

Kressler, who is aligned with U. S. Sen. James H. Duff, said he asked for Owlett's removal as a "move to shove right-wing Repub- licans into the background."

NEW SONOTONE Outperforms

EVERY MAJOR HEARING AID

in at least one of the following:

POWER—This new 4-transistor instrument is so powerful that many can be helped who could not hear satisfactorily before.

GAIN—It has so much sensitivity that, sitting in the back of church or the movies, most people can hear easily and well.

OPERATING COST—Here's a real bargain in better hearing. It is so inexpensive in use, that thousands with mild losses will spend only a few cents a week to hear better.

Regardless of price or claims by any other major hearing aid company, you should investigate the only hearing aid that can give you so much power and still cost so little to operate.

CHURCH COUNCIL ASSEMBLY WILL CONCLUDE TODAY

By MARY PRIM
BOSTON (AP) — The biennial General Assembly of the National Council of Churches, representing 85½ million Protestant and orthodox church members, summed up Friday with a closing message expounding a Christian view of world problems.

Methodist Bishop Gerald H. Kennedy of Los Angeles, chairman of the message committee, presented for discussion a draft dealing with such questions as the struggle between the free world and communism, the battle for an enduring peace, the need of vigilance to maintain our liberties and how best to achieve desegregation.

The gathering, representing a major portion of American Protestantism, called a dramatic halt in its proceedings Thursday to offer prayers for the recovery of Pope Pius XII, head of the Roman Catholic Church, which is not represented in the council.

BOSS IN PACIFIC
— Lieut. Gen. Bruce Cooper Clarke has been named by the U. S. Army to command its Pacific Theater with headquarters at Fort Shafter, Hawaii.

Prayed For Pope
Some 1,200 delegates stood in silence with heads bowed after they were informed by the council's new president-elect, Dr. Eugene Carson Blake of Philadelphia, of "the illness, the serious illness, of His Holiness, Pope Pius XII."

He interrupted a business session to suggest the moment's prayer. The delegates unanimously approved a message, to be transmitted to Vatican City through Archbishop Richard J. Cushing of Boston.

At the final session today the council installs its new president, Dr. Blake, in a ceremony at Old South Church.

Dr. Blake, top administrator of the Presbyterian Church in the United States was elected unanimously yesterday. One of the foremost theologians of his denomination, Dr. Blake has been active in national and world interdenominational Christian movements.

To Meet in 3 Years
The Assembly's decision to hold meetings every three years instead of every two will give Dr. Blake the first three-year term.

The new council president will start Dec. 7 on a Far Eastern Christmas tour of armed service bases overseas. He will visit Korea, Japan and elsewhere.

The Council also voted to accept an invitation of the city of St. Louis to hold the next General Assembly there in 1957.

It unanimously adopted four recommendations on Christian life and work. As presented by Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati, chairman of a sectional meeting, the recommendations:

New Techniques
Urged member communities, in the light of "difficult ethical problems lay people face daily in their jobs and occupations," to make use of the Council's new program techniques and discussion aids;

Encourage the churches "to venture more courageously into racial and cultural inclusion";

Urged the Council "to devise means for providing continuous information regarding efforts of the churches and their congregations to maintain American freedom";

Called on member communities "to coordinate their evangelistic efforts more closely."

Test Vote Tuesday For Japanese Premier

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's opposition parties agreed today to vote Tuesday on a motion of nonconfidence in Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida's government.

Yoshida served notice that if the motion passes he will dissolve the Diet and plunge the nation into new elections rather than resign.

The opposition — two Socialist parties and the Conservative Democratic party — has enough votes to pass the motion against the Conservative Liberal party government of Yoshida.

Show Prize-Winning Steer On TV Show

"Shorty," the Aberdeen Angus prize-winning steer at the recent International Livestock Exposition Chicago, will be shown during the Ed Sullivan TV show, "Toast of The Town," Sunday night, from 8 to 9 o'clock.

The steer, raised by Janice Hullinger, Manley, Iowa, in a 4-H project, was purchased by Pfaff Bros. Inc., meat dealers, who are represented in this area by Ellwood R. Jacobs, R. 1. The champion was purchased for $15 a pound.

SNOW AND ICE COVER WESTERN PA.; TWO KILLED

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Snow, drifting up to 10 inches in some areas and slicking highways with an icy glaze, covered most of western Pennsylvania Thursday night and early Friday.

In Erie, two men were killed during the storm Thursday night. A New York Central train struck their car at a crossing. Dead are Otto O. Kazmaler, 29, and Robert W. Allsopp, 20, both of Erie.

Erie and the northwest portion of the state were blanketed with snow ranging from 4 inches in the city to 10-inch drifts in outlying sections.

Melted In Morning
A bright sun had burned off the slick sheets of ice on the highways by midmorning. Minor auto accidents were reported, but most motorists took extra precaution to keep down the toll.

Pittsburgh had less than an inch of snow and a low temperature of 19 early in the day.

Mountain areas in the central part of the state reported snow flurries, with no significant pile-up. Philadelphia had only scattered snowflakes.

Vic Mature's Wife Gets $1,200 A Month

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—A judge yesterday granted screen actor Victor Mature's estranged wife Dorothy $1,200 a month temporary alimony pending trial of her divorce suit.

Mature, 41, and the former Dorothy Berry of Pasadena, 35, separated last Aug. 13. They were married in 1948.

Toll roads being built in the United States today usually cost well over a million dollars a mile.

Couple Awarded $75,000 Damages

HARRISBURG (AP)—A jury in U.S. District court awarded $75,000 damages Friday to Neal H. Giffin and his wife, Dorothy Giffin, Huntingdon, for injuries suffered by Mrs. Giffin in a truck-automobile collision near Huntingdon, August 1, 1954.

The jury returned the verdict after 13½ hours deliberation. The Giffins had sought $80,000 damages against John B. Ensign, driver of the truck; the George F. Burnett Co., Inc., his employer; Timken Detroit Axle Co. and the Studebaker Corp.

Attorneys for the Giffins contended the truck, a new six-wheel Studebaker being delivered by the Burnett Co. to the U. S. Army, was traveling at an excessive speed when it swerved into the opposite lane and crashed into Mrs. Giffin's car.

Mrs. Giffin suffered lacerations of the head, leaving a permanent scar, a fractured left jaw, a compound fracture of the left ankle and internal injuries.

It requires 28,000 to 670,000 gallons of water (depending on the amount of recirculation) to make a ton of synthetic rubber.
